

TAFT MEN WORRIED

Report Has It Candidates are Much Concerned.

THE SECOND ELECTIVE TERM

Senator Bourne Has Gathered Round Him a Few Men Who Are For Roosevelt First, Last and All the Time and Has Opened Headquarters

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Taft men are said to be considerably worried. Aye, indeed, report has it that every one of the candidate for the Presidential nomination, Democrats and Republicans alike, much concerned over the inauguration of a well-oiled, smoothly running "second elective term" campaign to keep Theodore Roosevelt in the White House for another period of four winters. Senator Bourne, of Oregon, who in season and out has argued for the renomination of the President, has gathered round him a few men who are for Roosevelt first, last and all the time, and has opened headquarters here for the purpose of rallying the third termers and facing another term on the Chief Executive. Senator Bourne has consulted no one, but has gone right ahead with his plans, regardless of whether Mr. Roosevelt, or anyone else for that matter, likes it. Of course, there are some who contend that the President was not sincere when he emphatically announced that under no circumstances would he again be a candidate for, or accept a nomination to succeed himself. The majority however—Senator Bourne among them—do not for instant doubt that Mr. Roosevelt was decidedly in earnest. The Oregon statesman admits this, but declares that the demand for his reelection will be so strong that, whether or no, he will be compelled to accept. It was generally believed that with Mr. Roosevelt's reiterated refusal, to consider a renomination, the "second elective term" idea would suffer a quiet death, but now that an active campaign to this end has been started, disinterested politicians and office holders are awaiting with relish the outcome of the clash they feel sure will come.

Whatever differences of opinion may exist, in and out of Congress in reference to most of the President's policies, his demand for the conservation of the country's natural resources finds no opponents and is steadily attracting more widespread public attention and support. As the date for the President's conference with the Governors of the States on this subject approaches, writers and speakers are giving more and more attention to various phases of the question. Appleton's Magazine has stated out to arouse the public mind to the gravity of the situation and in its March number publishes some startling facts in reference to the rapid exhaustion of national re-

YOUNG WOMEN

Young women are often great sufferers for want of proper advice at just the right time.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., has always lashed to young girls a special invitation to write to her about their sickness. She is a mother, and fully understands.

In nine chances out of ten your case will be just the same as those of the young ladies whose letters follow.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is what you need to restore health.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"When I wrote to you I was very nervous, had dull headaches, backache, and was very irregular. Doctors did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your advice made me regular, well and strong. I am now in better health than ever before."

Miss Elsie L. Hook, of Chelsea, Vt., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I am only sixteen years old, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and your advice have cured me of sideache, periodic pains, and a nervous, irritable condition after everything else had failed."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

sources. According to the statistics given in this article, the timber supply of the country will be exhausted at the present rate of consumption in from 23 to 33 years, the coal resources will be used up inside of a century, a billion tons of valuable soil are being washed away yearly by floods in the rivers, largely caused by the denudation of forest areas, and the productive power of farming lands is being decreased by improper methods of tillage. The remedy proposed by the Appleton article for this rapid depletion of the wealth-producing sources of the nation is to interest the women of the conserving America's natural resources upon their husbands and particularly upon their children, to the end that a more far-sighted policy be adopted in dealing to when the sun's heat will give out or Niagara run dry usually attract little attention because the dates are so far in the future, but if all the available timber in the country is likely to be used up within the next twenty-five years it probably will not be difficult to convince most persons that it is high time to put an end to forest waste.

A novel innovation will be made in army circles, if the plan put forward by a French modiste who is at present in Washington wins enough friends in the war department to bring about the appropriation of moneys to make it possible. The visitor called on Surgeon General O'Reilly this week to explain to him the advantages which would be obtained by having army officers, and, indeed, the enlisted men as well, wear the new corset for men which she has designed. The Surgeon General unfortunately chanced to be out, but his assistant, Major Ireland, was there, and the charming Parisian corsetier told him about her wonderful corset and how army officers wearing one would have no trouble in enduring the ninety-miles horse-back ride which President Roosevelt has prescribed. She was even armed with samples, some with dainty rosettes of baby blue ribbon on each shoulder others with red, and still others with little knots of blue, and green, and lavender, and she offered to let Major Ireland try them on, just to satisfy himself how comfortable they were. The Major was content, however, to look them over, externally as it were, and hear the Madame describe the physical charm and perfection which surely would come to the wearer. He assured her that the Surgeon General's office would take the matter under advisement. It is believed that even if the Department doesn't officially adopt the new stays, not a few of the corpulent desk warriors, who fear early retirement because of their inability to "mount and ride" at the President's order, will be fitted privately, for one of the Madame's strong claims for her invention is that its use will prevent and cure obesity.

Congress is receiving petition and memorials from farmers' organizations and commercial bodies, protesting at the attempt of certain interests which are seeking to restrict their markets, and thus lower prices, by means of legislation making it illegal to buy and sell for future delivery, grain, cotton and produce on established exchanges. Several bills to this effect have been introduced both in the Senate and in the House, and are now being considered in committee. While their avowed object is to stop speculation, they would in effect overturn in a moment, say the petition, the development of fifty years by which the producers of grain and other staples now are able to sell to a world market. The subject is in reality an old one, an has been passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States, which held that "future contracts on the Board of Trade are not gambling transactions." This decision which is frequently referred to, epitomizes the situation in the following terse words: "Of course in a modern market contract are not confined to scale for immediate delivery. People will endeavor to forecast the future and to make agreements according to their prophecy. Speculation of this kind by competent men is the self-adjustment of society to the probable. Its value is well known as a means of avoiding or mitigating catastrophes, equalizing prices and providing for periods of want. It is true that the success of the strong induces imitation by the weak, and that incompetent persons bring themselves to ruin by undertaking to speculate in their turn. But legislatures and courts generally have recognized that the natural evolutions of a complex society generally are to be touched with only a very cautious hand, and that such coarse attempts at a remedy for the waste incidents to every social function as a simple prohibition and laws to stop its being are harmful and vain."

Given up to Die.
B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you?—T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

Currants and gooseberries are easily propagated from cutting. Cut eight-inch lengths of last season's wood, set them upright a few inches apart, in rows (each cutting having at least one bud above ground,) cultivate them as you would any other crop.

Don't Let Talk Take the Place of Test

Don't let anyone's prejudice or selfish opposition convince you that any of the "Triangle A" brands are not better than any other cigars sold at the same price.

That's no way to judge.

You can test it for yourself, and you are the only one who knows when the cigar suits you.

Smoke any "Triangle A" brand and compare it fairly with any other cigar sold at the same price.

We are willing to stake the success of our whole business on public opinion founded on this test.

The experience which has been combined in producing the American Cigar Company's cigars was acquired from the operation of nearly 100 of the most famous and successful factories in Cuba and the United States. And processes of proper refining and scientific blending mean much to every smoker.

You can bank on the "Triangle A" sign every time. No more raw, green, bitter tobacco in your cigars!

Is that worth the trouble?

The "Triangle A" is the mark that protects you.

The New CREMO

5 cents

Every box is now extra-wrapped in glassine paper, sealed at each end with the "Triangle A" in red. The cigars are kept clean, fresh and in perfect smoking condition until the box is opened.

FARM NOTES.

Avoid a henpecked garden.
The thrifter the weeds the faster the mortgages grows.

Why not save the expense of buying asparagus plants? They are easily grown from seed.

Don't be in too great a hurry. Working the soil while it is too wet or soggy is not good for it.

Every fruit tree you set out makes your farm worth many dollars more. Set out a few this year.

Each sucker draws something from the life of the tree. Leave none to weaken your orchard.

Trees received in a frozen or dried-out condition should be buried for a while in the ground to thaw out and moisten.

In making up and sending seed order early, before the rush begins, one is sure to receive prompt attention and get the better selection.

Hope you pruned the grapevines last month or last November. If done now the vines will bleed,—but perhaps it's "better late than never."

Hardly things, such as early potatoes, peas, beets, spinach, onions and radishes, may be planted this month, as soon as soil conditions permit.

A boy appreciates the gift of a garden patch all his own and a few tools, and will take pride in making it an success, if he has ground worth anything.

Only a little over half of the injured seeds ever grow, and the others are weakly and do not produce a good crop. Weeviled peaces should never be planted.

Now while the earth is still frozen hard is a first rate time to put manure around the hills of raspberries. Not less than one good forkful should be dropped at the roots of every hill.

One of the most successful apple growers of Ohio, Mr. Cox, uses arsenate of lead in the Bordeaux mixture to kill the different fungi, as well as to keep in check the codling-moth; spraying at least four times after the bloom falls. His formula for Bordeaux is three pounds sulphate of copper, five pounds of lime, fifty gallons of water.

center of the space between the plants. The young tomato plants will furnish shade for the lettuce, and by the time the tomato occupy the space, you should have a stock of tender lettuce as large as a head of cabbage, for your trouble.

This is Worth Remembering

Whenever you have a cough or cold, just remember that Foley's Honey and Tar will cure it. Do not risk your health by taking any but the genuine. It is in a yellow package. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

Beecher's Wedding Fees.

When Collis P. Huntington was married for the second time Henry Ward Beecher performed the marriage ceremony. Huntington's first wife had been dead less than a year, and he desired the second marriage kept secret until his return from Europe. He gave Mr. Beecher a marriage fee of $1,500. When Huntington returned some months later he went through a public ceremony, and Beecher again officiated. He gave Beecher another fee of $1,500. The great preacher had his humor aroused by his second fee. Turning to Huntington, he said, "Collis, I do wish you were a Mormon."—Lyceumite and Talent.
